

Mr. Melle

THE ORANGE AND BLUE.

ALABAMA POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTE

VOL. VI. AUBURN, ALABAMA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1899. NO. 8

Wm. LeRoy Broun, M. A., LL. D., President of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute is a Virginian by birth, and graduated from the University of Virginia in 1850 with the degree of M. A.

After his graduation he was professor in a college in Mississippi for two years. Then he was elected professor of Mathematics in the University of Georgia where he remained two years, leaving to go back to Virginia where he organized the Bloomfield Academy and conducted it until near the outbreak of the Civil War.

In 1861 he entered the service of the Confederate States as a lieutenant of artillery, and rose to the rank of lieutenant-colonel in the Ordnance Department, and was then made commandant of the Richmond Arsenal.

After the war he was again at the University of Georgia, and in 1872 was made president of the Georgia A. & M. College then a branch of the University.

In 1875 Dr. Broun went to Vanderbilt University as professor of Mathematics, and here there was some complaint by other members of the faculty that his classes were too popular, the students devoting so much time to the mathematics classes to the neglect of other studies.

In 1882 he came to Auburn as president of the college but remained only one year, going to the University of Texas for one year, and in 1884 he came back to Auburn to stay.

The degree of LL. D. was conferred upon Dr. Broun in 1874 by St. John's College, Maryland, and in 1882 by the University of Georgia.

Under the wise administration of Dr. Broun the college has prospered greatly, until Auburn now ranks with the leading colleges of the South, and there is not a brick, not a plank, not a board on the college campus or the farm that has not been put there since he became president.

The Patient.

Clemson man—"I am impatient to get in the game."
Kid Turner—"Yes, by the end of the game, you will be Dr. Drake's patient."

Capt. M. O. Hollis Died in the Philippines, Nov. 2, 1899.

Magnus O. Hollis was born in Newnan, Ga., November, 1858. Here he received his early education, and formed those traits of manliness which characterized him as a man of sterling worth in later years. He was appointed to a place at West Point and graduated in 1882, was assigned to 4th Infantry at Fort Omaha, where he resided until 1886. From 1886 to 1891 Capt. Hollis was stationed at Fort Spokane. In 1895 he was ordered to Auburn. For three years as commandant of the A. P. I. cadets, he gave the very best satisfaction. In 1898 he was promoted to Captain.

On the first of May, 1898, Capt. Hollis received orders to go to Mobile as mustering officer of Alabama troops. There was not a sadder lot of men in the world, than the Auburn cadets, when Capt. Hollis boarded the train for his new field of labor. Not one of them but who wished him abundant success and a safe return. None of us then felt that the war would last so long, and we fully expected our beloved colonel to come back to us ere many weeks had passed. But Fate ordained that he should not come back to those who loved him. He served in the capacity of mustering officer for Alabama troops until November, 1898, just one year ago. In January, 1899, he left Columbus Barracks for the Philippine Islands.

Capt. Hollis, while in the Philippines, was of inestimable service to his country. He was as brave a man as ever lived and in several fights was ordered to make the charge. He acted as major of his battalion for several months prior to his death and would have been promoted in a short while. Capt. Hollis was not in good health for some weeks previous to his death. In a letter written to a friend during the summer he stated that he was very thin and that he never expected to reach home alive again.

We all mourn the death of this brave man, so devoted to the interests of his country. His death leaves a place in the hearts of his many Auburn friends that can never be filled.

Capt. Hollis leaves a wife and children. Mrs. Hollis is in Chicago, and to her and his fatherless children their many friends, through the Orange and Blue, extend their sincere sympathies.

A Letter

Luverne, Ala., Nov. 3rd '99.
It was the pleasure of the writer to return, after an absence of two years to Auburn, his beloved Alma Mater, to mingle with the matchless faculty and the number of manly young men who swarm her campus.

Few noticeable changes had occurred. The roomy, well adapted, tasteful annexes to the chemical and mechanical buildings, appealed to the eye of the outsider, but far more pleasing to the "old man" was the noticeable increase in attendance and the standard the curriculum had attained, which now equals, if not excels, that of the larger Southern Universities.

It was my pleasure to witness the Auburn-Clemson football game, and the alertness, precision, physical ability and self control exhibited by the Auburn team strongly appealed to me. My advice to all students is to take part in all athletic sports. To play football, especially under Mr. Heisman, requires regularity in habits, total abstinence from all kinds of intoxicants, the best of food, and, in fact avoidance of all kinds of dissipation. It develops the body more than any other known exercise, causes one to learn precision, alertness, quickness in thought and action and above all instills courage and self reliance.

One thing it seems to me, that Auburn sadly needs is a competent instructor to take charge of her gymnasium and to train her men in out door exercises. This she must have or the benefit intended to be derived from her well equipped gymnasium will be impossible.

Other colleges of smaller attendance have these advantages. Why should not Auburn have them? This is an important move and let the Alumni who are interested in the welfare of their Alma Mater help the student body.

The team this season shows what training will accomplish and it is confidently expected that when Thanksgiving's sun has set, the championship cup will smile serenely from the trophy table in "Old Auburn's" library.

All cannot play football, but those who cannot play can show their interest from the side line. Nothing inspires a player more than a good yell, or college songs, from his comrades. Show your enthusiasm, revive the "Goat Club," appoint a leader and learn the yells and songs.

The eyes of the world are on you, show your spirit.

G. O. D. 198.

Tennis Club.

Let every student who has played, does play, and is interested in the game of tennis, co-operate and some time soon effect an organization of a tennis club, and so support it as to maintain its existence throughout the whole session. If the members will come out for about an hour every P. M., and practice we will by the end of the session have a set of men so qualified as to be sent as Auburn's representatives to participate in some tournament, and perhaps reflect credit on the college. Please consider this question, boys, and let us have a tennis club that will compare in proportionate qualities to our splendid football team.

ORANGE AND BLUE.

AIR: RED, WHITE AND BLUE.

Oh, Auburn, the gem of the nation,
The home of the brave and the free,
The shrine of her people's devotion,
Alabama offers homage to thee.
Thy mandates make "heroes" assemble
Thy towers and thy bulwarks to view;
Thy banners make villainy tremble,
When crown'd by the Orange and Blue.

CHORUS.

When crown'd by the Orange and Blue,
When crown'd by the Orange and Blue.

Thy banners make villainy tremble,
When crown'd by the Orange and Blue.

The star-spangled banner bring hither,
O'er Auburn's true sons let it wave,
May the wreaths she has won never wither.

Nor its stars cease to shine on the brave.

May the corps now united ne'er sever,
But hold to their colors so true—
Auburn, O Auburn, forever!

Three cheers for the Orange and Blue!

CHORUS.

Three cheers for the Orange and Blue!

Three cheers for the Orange and Blue!

Auburn! old A. P. I. forever!

Three cheers for the Orange and Blue!

SENIOR DANCE!

Greatest Social Event of the Season (?)

Friday night the greatest social event of the season was pulled off at Thomas Hall. The Hall was crowded with pretty girls, and what is very pleasing to know, they were all Auburn girls. The young college swells were flying around overjoyed at the success of the dance, that they were so uneasy about.

Mrs. Burke, that charming lady, chaperoned the dance.

Fitten's band furnished music, and after several hours of very pleasant amusement the dancers disbanded. The Senior German Club is to be congratulated on the great success of the dance.

SEWANEE'S FINE RECORD.

Nine Straight Games, 240 Points to 0 for Their Opponents.

Sewanee, Tenn., Nov. 15.—The Sewanee University of the South football team returned today from what was the most remarkable trip ever made by an American College team. The traveled 2,500 miles and played five games against the strongest teams of the south, in six days. Sewanee defeated the University of Texas 12 to 0 on Nov. 9; Nov. 10, the A. and M. College was beaten 10 to 0. Nov. 11, Tulane University was beaten at New Orleans 23 to 0. Nov. 13, the Louisiana State University team was beaten 34 to 0, at Baton Rouge and the trip ended yesterday, when Sewanee defeated the University of Mississippi at Memphis by 12 to 0.

The team returned from their trip in good condition, not a serious accident having occurred to any of the members. Sewanee has won nine straight games, with a total score of 240, to 0 for their opponents.

Our Athletic Advisory Board.

Each member of this advisory board should know the constitution printed below, and particularly the section in regard to attendance. At our last meeting we were unable to get a quorum, and, hence some very important business was left unfinished. Let all come out promptly to these meetings.

Below is the amended constitution:

Section 1. The executive power of the association shall be vested in an Advisory Board composed of two representatives from each fraternity, and one non frat from each class and one from post graduate.

Sec. 2. The officers of the association shall be a president, a vice-president, secretary and treasurer elected by the members of the advisory board from among their number, a manager and captain of the baseball, football, and track teams respectively appointed by the athletic board.

The managers and captains of the different teams may or may not be members of the advisory board but become so on election and the party they represent must include such officers in their allotted number of representatives.

Sec. 3. The members of the advisory board shall hold office for one year their election being held at the beginning of fiscal year and at their first meeting they shall elect their officers. The captain and manager of the baseball and track team respectively shall be elected within two weeks after the close of their respective seasons. Captains shall be elected by the old team, managers will be appointed by the advisory board.

Sec. 4. On the general duties of the president shall be to call and preside at all meetings of the board. He shall have the power to expel from membership anyone who is absent without good reason from two successive meetings of the board.

Upon such expulsion he shall notify the body of which the suspended member is a representative and allow them to elect another to fill his place.

The duty of the secretary-treasurer shall be to record and read minutes of each meeting of the board and solicit and collect subscriptions, dues, etc. The vice-president shall preside at the meetings of the board in the absence of the president. The vice-secretary-treasurer shall act for the secretary-treasurer in the former's absence and throughout the year to assist in soliciting and collecting subscriptions, dues, etc.

Sec. 5. All moneys accruing from any department of the association shall be turned over to the secretary-treasurer and a receipt taken for the same. He shall pay only such bills as are approved by

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. reception given by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. at the home of Mrs. A. L. Dillard Friday night was a great success. There were many young people out to the entertainment and all report a most enjoyable time.

Boys put your time to good use. Learn all you can while you are under such competent Professors. If you throw away your time you will regret it when you begin to fight life's battles alone.

In this issue of the Orange and Blue we print a sketch of the life of our honored President. In succeeding issues we will try to have a similar sketch of each professor; with a picture. This should be very interesting to the boys and in fact, to everybody who takes an interest in the welfare of the college. Later on we will have a cut of one building or more in each issue.

Boys, pay up your subscription. Square yourselves with the band. It is a deserving organization and should have the co-operation of the student body. Do you owe anything to football? If you do you should pay up.

In regard to the band, Prof. Fullan is having excellent success. Some of the men are doing fine. This organization will furnish many pleasant evening musicales later on. Every man should take pride in it.

Now for our last and hardest game—Sewanee. All arrangements have been made to play this game in Montgomery, Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 30. There will be one of the biggest crowds that ever witnessed a football game in the South, there to see it. From the record of the two teams at present written this game promises to be the best ever played in the South. Sewanee has just finished a southern tour, scoring 82 points without having been scored against by a single team. Auburn has made the marvelous record of 137 points in three games.

That goat! have you seen him? Well if you haven't introduce yourself to him, and kindly set him up to an oyster can or stove pipe. Charley Bragraw and E. H. Foy have secured the services of Beelzebub (as he is known to his friends), for Thanksgiving day. Beelzebub will be decked in Orange and Blue colors, and he will have as companions and guides Thick Lip Bose and Rubber Neck Croxy. These sons of Ham will also have a good supply of Orange and Blue upon their dusky forms.

Now, boys it wouldn't be exactly the right thing to make two men go to all the trouble and expense of promoting this vast enterprise. Of course you will want some banners to show to Sewanee on that day, and what is needed is money. See one or the other of the above named men and subscribe something towards a big silk banner. What we get will be something nice, and you will be proud to display it to the thousands who will witness the Auburn vs. Sewanee game in Montgomery Thanksgiving.

The Athletic Advisory Board has signed the contract for a special train to carry the football cranks to see the great game in Montgomery Nov. 30th. The train will start from West Point, Ga., and in all probability will leave Auburn just after the 8 o'clock train has passed. It is the intention of the management to carry this schedule out, so that those going down on the special will have a whole day in the city. The round trip price will be $1.50. Now who wouldn't give $1.50 to get to see such a game as will be played in Montgomery? Why, the change of air is worth more than that. Let every college man go and let him be determined to yell his lungs out in giving old Auburn this encouragement. We insist on all learning the yells, because we'll need you every one. You must not miss seeing Beelzebub on the gridiron, with his two guides, so buy your ticket and avoid the rush. Tickets will be on sale at Bragaw's Drug Store and Jackson's in Auburn, and Thomason's Drug Store and Greene & Dorsey's in Opelika.

AUBURN AGAIN VICTORIOUS

By a Score of 11 to 6, With 32 Seconds to Play and the Ball on Georgia's 10-Yard Line and First Down.

One of the fiercest contested games of football ever played in the South was witnessed by those who attended the Auburn vs. University of Georgia, in Atlanta, Saturday, November 18th.

The game from start to finish was fiercely fought on both sides. Probably no harder line bucking has ever been witnessed south of the Mason and Dixon line, and certainly no prettier playing, steady team work, and brilliant trick-playing than that exhibited by the Auburn team last Saturday.

When Georgia played Sewanee several weeks ago, not a man in Auburn, but who felt confident that we could beat Georgia. Georgia's line was weak and Sewanee was able to go through, or round the ends at pleasure. They defeated Georgia by a score of 11 to 0.

Since Sewanee played Georgia, however, Georgia has strengthened her line and ends 75 per cent.

Auburn found out she had to play ball, and play ball she did. One and one-half hours play each afternoon against the strongest "scrub" team in the country made a great improvement in the line. Great care was also taken by our coach that the backs should learn to start faster than ever backs started on an Auburn football team before. To do this a gun was fired, and the backs were trained to be on a dead run even before the report was fairly heard. We thought these end runs would surely paralyze Georgia, but their heavy ends and "extras" were fully capable of stopping that cyclone of humanity. Only four end runs were tried and these were nipped in the bud.

Any one not knowing the disposition of the two teams before the game began would surely have said that we would be beaten. Georgia was 17 pounds heavier to the man than we were. They were, every one of them, veteran football players, while Auburn's team was made up of new men except in two or three instances.

We say Georgia's men were veterans, we mean that they must have been or Georgia would not have taken so much trouble to get them 800 miles away.

Before the game was called the Capt. and Manager of the Georgia team were asked by the Capt. and Manager of the Auburn team to make affidavit that in playing Golf, Young, Simcox and Finnegan, they violated no rule of the S. I. C. A. A., which they two times flatly refused to do. We knew that these men were playing for money and not for glory, and, being strictly against the rules of the S. I. C. A. A., they should have been taken off of the Georgia team.

We had to play them though and had it not been for the brilliant playing of the four above named men Georgia would have never seen Auburn's goal line and as for Auburn, why, it would have been a repetition of the Auburn vs. Tech game.

THE GAME.

The game was called at 3 o'clock and Auburn won the kickoff. Martin kicked 10 yards and Feagin secured the ball. Two bucks were tried and Auburn found Georgia's line a veritable wall of masonry. Yarbrough kicked, and Georgia got ball. By successive bucks the pigskin was taken to within 10 yards of Auburn's goal line and the famous 5 yard defence was put up. Georgia was unable to gain an inch and the ball went to Auburn. By these "funny" plays she had scored a touchdown and the Georgia men were dazed. Yarbrough kicked an easy goal and the score was 6 to 0, in favor of Auburn.

SECOND HALF.

During the second half Georgia advanced the ball to Auburn's 45 yard line. Here they were unable to make the required 5 yards, and the ball was Auburn's. Bivings was sent through the center for 34 yards, but dropped the ball and a Georgia man fell on it. By hard bucking Georgia at last passed the coveted goal line and the score was 6 to 6.

Things were now even and began to look blue for Auburn. Up and showed them a thing or two. It was not long before we had scored another touchdown, but this time the goal was missed and the score stood 11 to 6 in favor of Auburn.

Now came the rub. By very hard playing Auburn had advanced the ball to within ten yards of Georgia's goal line, when Finnegan on the Georgia team was injured. The captain of the Georgia team asked that time be taken out for him. When two minutes, the maximum time allowed for a player to remain out of the game, had passed the time keepers notified the referee. He allowed the time to pass and neglected to make Georgia play ball. Here he clearly neglected his duty as referee. He allowed one minute and 45 seconds more than the maximum time to pass, when he announced that the game would be called on account of darkness and the official score of 0 to 0.

There is no rule in the rule book that could possibly uphold the referee, Mr. Powbatham, and for him when only 30 seconds of the second half remained, to snatch the pleasure of our hardest won victory from us by his absurd decision, is too much. We will not stand it. Already protests have been made to the S. I. C. A. A., and before long we will have our just score, 11 to 6.

We have no kick to make on the Georgia team; they acted perfect gentlemen all through the game, and after the game was over they said that Auburn had fairly won, and that they should be entitled to the score of 11 to 6.

If it would do any good to review the situation with these men, and hasten the settlement of this debt of honor, we would be glad to do so. Suffice it to say, that the season is nearly over and the management is greatly in need of money and must have all that has been subscribed before the Thanksgiving game. It is the right thing that those who are behind should pay up before another day passes. Pay you subscriptions to the band too.

ATHELETIC ADVISORY BOARD.

the president of the board.

Sec. 6. The managers of the several teams as before provided must turn over all accruing funds to the secretary-treasurer and at the end of the season make a detailed statement of the receipts and disbursements of the season.

The managers of the respective teams shall not be personally responsible for any debt incurred whose contraction was approved by the advisory board but shall act simply as the agent of the board and the college at large nor can a debt contracted by the association through the advisory board be considered as a prorata-debt of the members of the board since the board is a representative body representing all the fraternities and all the classes the members of whom share with the members of the board the moral responsibility for the debts contracted for legitimate expenses.

Sec. 7. The managers of the various teams must submit to the approval all plans involving financial responsibility and risk and all proposed schedules of games or meets whether at home or abroad furthermore all such financial plans and schedules of games after the approval by the advisory board shall be referred to the Faculty—Athletic committee for advice and after their opinion is obtained the matter is referred back to the advisory board for final action. The president of the advisory board shall be the medium of communication between the advisory board and the Faculty—Athletic committee.

Sec. 8. Any unexpended balance in the treasury of the board may be used by the board to meet the debts accrued from any other department of the association as they may see fit.

Sec. 9. This plan of reorganization shall be the Constitution under which the association shall be organized. It may be changed or amended by two-thirds vote of the advisory board. Two-thirds of the members of the board shall form a quorum for the transaction of any business.

Websterian Society.
This department of the college has had a series of interesting and successful meetings since the last issue of the Orange and Blue. Indeed, improvement on the part of every member is becoming more and more evident. Heated discussions occur on both sides of every question under debate. Every subject for debate is always chosen by a special query committee, who selects a question well adapted to the argumentative ability of the members. Usually, and especially, lately, the question is identical with some recent question of the general public. Recognizing the fact that variety is the spice of life, the two societies of the college have by co-operation arranged a mock trial for next Saturday, which shall be conducted by the members of both societies combined. So, come out, boys, all of you, and participate in these pleasant and beneficial exercises. Cadet Beeson will be put on trial for stealing chickens from Dr. Broun and Cadet Jackson, is charged with breaking the lock on the hen house door. Boys, there is sure to be some fun.
